

Two for the Road WORKSHOPS

“An effective evaluation is an opportunity for you to do for the speaker what he cannot do on his own.”

An evaluation is a gift to the speaker. It is an opportunity for you to do for the speaker what he cannot do on his own. In this training session, Bud Everts will show you how to focus on the positive and build the speaker's confidence. Join Bud's session to hear a unique perspective on giving evaluations from someone who truly enjoys giving them — both in the business world and in Toastmasters meetings.

Bud Everts

Bud Everts has had a fun and exciting career in the Restaurant, Theme Park and Museum industries. From being a waiter in his college days, Bud moved up through the ranks of Dining Room Captain, Banquet Manager, Wine Steward, General Manager, District Manager and Director of Human Resources for Stuart Anderson's Black Angus Restaurants, opening restaurants across the United States and in Singapore. Bud has also overseen Operations and Human Resources at Bonfante Gardens and at The Tech Museum\ of Innovation, at the forefront of technological progress in Silicon Valley.